

ANOUNCEMENT

Nina Tumosa, Ph.D., Associate Director for Education and Evaluation, St. Louis GRECC and Professor of Internal Medicine, St. Louis University School of Medicine, has been appointed Editor for the Education and Training Section of the Journal of the American Geriatrics Society (JAGS), effective immediately.

Dr. Tumosa is widely recognized for her contributions in geriatric education including: Past President of the National Association of Geriatric Education Centers (NAGEC) and National Association for Geriatric Education (NAGE); Editorial Board member of the Journal of the American Medical Director's Association (JAMDA) and the Gerontology and Geriatric Education (G&GE); Member, St. Louis University CME Committee, and Co-Director, St. Louis University Center for Aging Successfully.

She is also Co-Director for the HRSA funded Gateway Geriatric Education Center at St. Louis University and is the center's representative to the Geriatric Education Preparedness Response & Recovery (GEPR) Collaborative composed of 6 HRSA funded GECs (Consortium NYGEC, Ohio Valley Appalachia Region GEC, Saint Louis University GEC, Stanford GEC, Texas Consortium GEC, & University of Maine GEC) to provide education on all-disaster preparedness to health care and social services professionals in all settings.

Please join us in congratulating and supporting Dr. Tumosa's (nina.tumosa@va.gov) for her appointment.